

EMAC Instructors Course (EMACi):

The EMAC Instructors Course is a 2 day program providing an introduction to the basic principles of simulation based education as applicable to teaching the EMAC course. The course includes interactive sessions on skills teaching, running small group discussions, problem based learning and video assisted debriefing and relates these back to the relevant EMAC modules.

Opportunities are provided for participants to practice using the above techniques with the support of facilitators experienced in both the teaching of EMAC and the use of simulation. It is a prerequisite that participants have completed EMAC itself, but although the course is primarily directed at those wishing to become EMAC instructors, it is also a useful starting point for anyone interested in becoming involved in simulation based teaching.
